Greetings to the Graduates

The pomp and ceremony of convocation exercises formally mark an important life transition for you, our graduates. Surrounded by proud families, friends, teachers and mentors, you may now move forward with confidence, having earned our admiration and praise.

Each of you submitted to a rigorous intellectual path and each has proved worthy. Today, you mark an important milestone in your life while we, your community, mark an important one in ours. Ninety-five years ago, the University of Alberta was founded on a scrubby piece of riverbank by men and women who believed this province should be built on a foundation of knowledge.

At that time, our founding president, Henry Marshall Tory, promised that the knowledge within these walls would not remain here, but would flow forever outward in service to our community. Today, you join more than 170,000 University of Alberta alumni worldwide in fulfilling that promise.

Universities began as small collections of scholars who worked together to preserve and advance knowledge. Students came to study with them and, in due course, an administrative structure arose to provide system and recognition for those studies. This ancient structure is preserved at the University of Alberta, with the faculty and the students providing the core of the University's purpose: teaching and the advancement of knowledge. The faculty's task is facilitated by their colleagues in the academic staff, the Faculty Service Officers, the Administrative Professional Officers, the Librarians, and the University's dedicated support staff.

The faculty, numbering some 1,600, is responsible for creating programs of study, for teaching, and for evaluating the learning of the student body, both undergraduate and

Our lives are often marked by special milestones that leave indelible impressions on us. For students, convocation is a celebration of achievement that creates lasting memories.

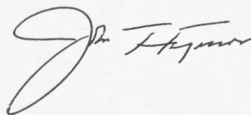

I am pleased to join family members and friends in congratulating you on your convocation. It takes a great deal of dedication and commitment to successfully obtain a goal such as this. You can be proud of your perseverance and success.

Graduates of the University of Alberta are reflective of the talent and creativity that exists in our province. The skills and knowledge you have obtained during your academic career will stand you in good stead throughout your life.

Since 1908, our community has grown beyond the borders of Alberta to encompass the world in one global community. Learning to live peacefully and prosperously in this community will require leaders and citizens of vision, commitment and drive. More than ever, the world needs leaders and citizens like the people you have become.

While today may seem like an ending, it is not. Today is the beginning of the next leg of your journey. You will continue to grow and to learn and you will continue to be a life-long member of the University of Alberta community.

Welcome and Congratulations.

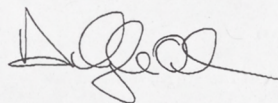

John T Ferguson, FCA, LLD (Hon)
Chancellor

graduate. In addition, faculty members are responsible for the scholarly reputation of the University by preserving and sharing knowledge and by pursuing new ideas and knowledge through their research.

The faculty and staff congratulate you, the graduates, on the successful completion of your present studies which is recognized by the degrees to which you are admitted today. Your achievement deserves praise. We hope your present knowledge provides a sound base for an education which will continue throughout a rewarding life. We would remind you of the advice given to graduands by Honorary Degree Recipient Tommy Banks: "Try to be a good person. You will be amazed how rewarding it is."

Congratulations from the Faculty and Staff!

On behalf of the Government of Alberta, I wish you success in all of your endeavours.

Dr Lyle Oberg, Minister

Honorary Degree Recipient

Mr John Hume

John Hume has spent his life in unremitting pursuit of a peaceful solution to the conflict in Northern Ireland.

In the late 1960s, Mr Hume, a native of Derry, Northern Ireland, and then an unknown school teacher, peacefully protested the manner in which Northern Ireland was run—acting single-handedly at first, joined later by thousands. As he worked to bring about changes and right the injustices which made Roman Catholics second class citizens in their own country, he called unequivocally for a non-violent solution, on the grounds that a people seeking civil and human rights should act in a civil way. For this he was frequently castigated and isolated by fellow Catholic leaders, but he stood his often lonely ground and continued to declare his belief in non-violent negotiation.

Mr Hume was the driving force behind many attempts to resolve the Northern Ireland problem over the past 30 years. He was instrumental in bringing Sinn Féin, Ireland's oldest political party, into the political fold. To accomplish this Mr Hume determinedly carried on talks with Gerry Adams, President of Sinn Féin, despite widespread criticism. The talks with Adams led to an IRA cease-fire in August 1994. More than anyone else he was the architect behind the peace process; and when an agreement was reached on Good Friday in 1998, the participants included Sinn Féin as well as political representatives of the Protestant paramilitaries. Campaigning vigorously for a 'yes' vote in the referendum on the agreement, Mr Hume shared a stage with David Trimble, Ulster Unionist leader, and Bono of U2, in an effort to persuade the Unionist vote.

Elected as an Independent to the Stormont Parliament in 1969, Mr Hume co-founded the moderate nationalist Social Democratic and Labour Party (1970), whose mandate was to peacefully unite the Irish of different religions, cultures, historical and economic backgrounds. He was the party's first deputy leader, and its leader from 1979 to 2001. He has been a Member of the European Parliament since 1979, and a Member of Parliament in the UK since 1983.

Mr Hume's unceasing opposition to violence and his tireless pursuit of peaceful solutions have won him many awards including the International League for Human Rights Award for Peace and Human Rights (1994), the International Human Rights Award 21 (1996), and the Martin Luther King Peace Prize (1999). In recognition of his untiring efforts to find a peaceful solution to the conflict in Northern Ireland, Mr Hume was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize jointly with Ulster Unionist leader David Trimble (1998) and the Ghandi Peace Prize, by the President of India (2002).

Throughout his public life Mr Hume has remained a passionate advocate of non-violent methods of solving conflicts. Insisting on inclusiveness and the need to build community, rejecting any idea of 'victory' for any one side, he has been unwavering in his commitment to resolving problems in Northern Ireland by peaceful means.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Mr John Hume:

Angelicus Bartholomaeus. De Proprietatibus Rerum. Nuremberg. A Koberger, 1519.

First published in the 1470s this is a rare, 16th-century Latin edition of the first important encyclopedia of the Middle Ages. Immensely popular for more than three centuries, it is still important for its information on political geography and its accounts of natural history.

The Presentation

The Dean of the Faculty of Medicine and Dentistry presents the candidates for degrees with these words:

"Eminent Chancellor and President, on behalf of the Faculties, I present to you these scholars and ask that they be pledged and admitted to the degrees to which they are entitled."

The Pledge

The President then addresses the candidates in these words:

"Do you promise faithfully to observe and loyally to maintain the statutes, customs, privileges, and liberties of this, your University? Do you solemnly promise to conduct yourself in all things loyally and faithfully to the honour of your University, the encouragement of learning, and the good of your country?"

Each candidate replies:

"These things I pledge myself to do."

The Admission

The Chancellor then addresses the candidates in these words:

"By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Legislature of this Province, and with the consent of this University, I admit you to the degrees to which you are entitled, and invest you with all the powers, rights, and privileges pertaining to such degrees. Honorary Degree Recipient

Mr Allan Markin

Allan P Markin has a distinguished record as a successful businessman, generous philanthropist and visionary citizen with a passionate commitment to education and health.

Taking on the role of Chairman of Canadian Natural Resources Limited (CNRL) in 1989, at a time when the company was in extreme difficulty, Mr Markin — along with Murray Edwards (director and partner) and the CNRL Management Committee — is credited with building the company into one of Canada's largest oil and natural gas producers. Headquartered in Calgary with offices in London, England and Abidjan, Côte d'Ivoire, CNRL has current annual revenues of more than $3 billion and has grown from six employees in 1989 to more than 1,200 today.

One of the great strengths of Mr Markin's leadership has been his commitment to CNRL employees and his genuine concern for their well-being which has led to the corporate success of the company.

He was a leader in initiating a compensation plan enabling all employees to share in the company's success, and he personally meets every new employee to explain the corporate philosophy.

Mr Markin's business acumen has been recognized with a number of distinctions including the Alberta Pinnacle Award of Business and the Oilweek Producer of the Year. He has also been recognized for outstanding achievement in the category of Canadian Oil/Junior Producers Industry by the Wall Street Journal.

Under his leadership, CNRL contributes to many community causes, and Mr Markin himself is an outstandingly generous supporter of a number of major initiatives. Although diversified, his main philanthropic objective is to enhance education and health.

Most recently, Mr Markin, acting jointly with CNRL, committed substantial funding to support construction of the University of Alberta's Natural Resources Engineering Facility, a major new building that will provide much-needed classrooms, laboratories and research space.

A graduate of the University of Alberta in chemical engineering, Mr Markin also supports scholarships and bursaries at his alma mater. His strong commitment to his community is further demonstrated through his continuing philanthropy to other institutions of education and his personal and unstinting support of community organizations in the province.

Mr Markin is the benefactor of the Markin Chair in Health, Wellness and Society at the University of Calgary; with his wife, Jackie Flanagan, he established the Flanagan/Markin Distinguished Writers program on that campus; and he has aided in the development of a sports medicine facility there. He also supports a scholarship fund to aid university education for students from the Bowness area, where he grew up. As well, he is a principal supporter in the foundation and development of St Mary's College, Calgary, helping put the college on a solid financial base. An extensive reader with a probing and insightful mind, he has taken part in several philosophy and religious-studies courses at the College and at the University of Calgary, examining and validating them as a student.

Mr Markin brings a unique perspective to all issues and thinks deeply about them. With a life-affirming vision, a profound interest in the welfare of others and a deep commitment to building a better world, he has used the fruits of his considerable business success to enhance Alberta society. Seeking to contribute to the common good, he is a concerned and willing partner in the educational, cultural, social, economic and political life of our province and the world.

John Ross. Refinery. High Tide Press, New York, 2000.

A remarkable 3-D construction of colour images and etchings based on the artist's drawings of oil refineries in Ploesti, Romania and Sisak, Croatia, one of five copies signed and numbered. In a specially designed green cloth box by Joe DiMarcantonio, with a green/black image of an oil gusher on the front cover, the volume represents a major addition to the Peel Library's collection of artists' books and bookworks.

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

The Presentation

The Dean of the Faculty of Science presents the candidates for degrees with these words:

"Eminent Chancellor and President, on behalf of the Faculties, I present to you these scholars and ask that they be pledged and admitted to the degrees to which they are entitled."

The Pledge

The President then addresses the candidates in these words:

"Do you promise faithfully to observe and loyally to maintain the statutes, customs, privileges, and liberties of this, your University? Do you solemnly promise to conduct yourself in all things loyally and faithfully to the honour of your University, the encouragement of learning, and the good of your country?"

Each candidate replies:

"These things I pledge myself to do."

The Admission

The Chancellor then addresses the candidates in these words:

“By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Legislature of this Province, and with the consent of this University, I admit you to the degrees to which you are entitled, and invest you with all the powers, rights, and privileges pertaining to such degrees. I charge you to use them for the glory of God and the honour of your country.”

Honorary Degree Recipient

Dr Robert Steadward

As a national and international leader for the Paralympic movement, Robert D (Bob) Steadward has earned an unparalleled reputation for his willingness to step forward and take on major challenges and improve the quality of life for athletes with and without disability.

Dr Steadward began his career in 1970 as an instructor in the Faculty of Physical Education and Recreation at the University of Alberta, where his teaching style and insistence on high standards were recognized with awards for excellence in teaching.

In 1978, Dr Steadward developed the University of Alberta Research and Training Centre for the Physically Disabled — a centre for athletic training and conditioning for persons with disability. In 1987, in conjunction with Rick Hansen's Man in Motion tour, and in recognition of the importance of making inclusive physical activity opportunities available for persons with disability, the centre was renamed the Rick Hansen Centre.

The Centre has become world-renowned for its state-of-the-art programs, highly qualified staff, and excellence in research. Its pursuit of innovative research spanning the biological and psycho-social domains is documented in many papers in refereed journals, and has resulted in the development of innovative rehabilitation technologies. It is fitting, therefore, that on Dr Steadward's retirement in 2001 the centre was renamed The Steadward Centre.

As President of the International Paralympic Committee for 12 years, Dr Steadward took the institutions of disability sports from a collection of independent, disability-specific organizations to a unified organization, based on the fundamental principles of inclusion and sports excellence. His leadership style facilitated the growth of an association with the International Olympic Committee, and as a result, the organization of the Paralympic Games and the Olympic Games is now inextricably linked.

Never losing sight of the dreams and ambition of those who face barriers to participation in elite sports, Dr Steadward championed the development within the International Paralympic Movement of the Solidarity Program designed to foster inclusion of, and increase opportunities for, developing nations, persons with severe disability and women. Yet it is not only the elite athlete that Dr Steadward champions. With an abiding belief in the power of physical activity, exercise and sport as a conduit towards inclusion in society, he is a strenuous advocate for increasing the opportunities for active living for persons with disability.

For his efforts and initiatives for people with disability for nearly four decades, Dr Steadward has been appointed an Officer of the Order of Canada; he has been conferred an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Leuven University, Belgium; he has been inducted into the Sports Hall of Fame for the City of Edmonton, the Province of Alberta and the University of Alberta. He has merited a place on the University of Alberta's Distinguished Alumni Wall of Honor; he has received the University of Oregon Distinguished Alumni Award; he was recently inducted to the University of Alberta Sports Wall of Fame and, he has been honored as Canada's Volunteer of the Year.

Dr Steadward's first priority is people and their well-being, whether he is working with a student, a client with a disability, or an international sports committee. Men and women throughout the developed and the developing world have benefited in significant ways because of his commitment to improving their sporting and living opportunities.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Dr Robert Steadward:

Ronald King. Tabernacle: Hole: Horse & Hell-box. Designed and produced by Ronald King. London, Circle Press, 2001.

An extraordinary celebration of the King's family history of struggle and dedication over seven generations of printers and the masterpiece of King's inventive work as head of the Circle Press. King has created a wooden cabinet with seven drawers which contain history, poetry (by Roy Fisher), graphic materials, 120 magnetized letters, and 64 rubber-stamp letters, which the reader can ponder and arrange in many ways. Several drawers have been designated for 'audience participation.' An instructive and imaginative personal history of printing, and an interactive work of art, this is one of 56 sets.

Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Conferring of Degrees

The Presentation

The Dean of the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research presents the candidates for degrees with these words:

"Eminent Chancellor and President, on behalf of the Faculties, I present to you these scholars and ask that they be pledged and admitted to the degrees to which they are entitled."

The Pledge

The President then addresses the candidates in these words:

"Do you promise faithfully to observe and loyally to maintain the statutes, customs, privileges, and liberties of this, your University? Do you solemnly promise to conduct yourself in all things loyally and faithfully to the honour of your University, the encouragement of learning, and the good of your country?"

Each candidate replies:

"These things I pledge myself to do."

The Admission

The Chancellor then addresses the candidates in these words:

"By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Legislature of this Province, and with the consent of this University, I admit you to the degrees to which you are entitled, and invest you with all the powers, rights, and privileges pertaining to such degrees. I charge you to use them for the glory of God and the honour of your country."

The graduates remain in their places.

Presentation of Graduates

The graduates are presented individually to the Chancellor in alphabetical order according to the seniority of their faculty and the establishment date of each program. At the discretion of the Faculty, the notation "With Distinction" is inscribed on the permanent record and graduation parchment of a candidate for any degree (except an honors or graduate degree), if the candidate has obtained a grade-point average of 7.5 or higher over the last two years of the program.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Dr Alistair MacLeod

Alistair MacLeod was born in North Battleford, Saskatchewan in 1936 and raised among an extended family in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia. He still spends his summers in Inverness County, writing in a clifftop cabin looking west towards Prince Edward Island. In his early years to finance his education he worked as a logger, a miner and a fisherman, and writes vividly and sympathetically about such work.

His early studies were at the Nova Scotia Teacher's College, St Francis Xavier University, the University of New Brunswick, and the University of Notre Dame where he took his PhD. He has also taught creative writing at the University of Indiana. Working alongside WO Mitchell, he was an inspiring teacher to generations of writers at the Banff Centre. In the spring of 2000, MacLeod retired from the University of Windsor, Ontario, where he was a professor of English. Dr MacLeod has received honorary degrees from St Francis Xavier University, University College of Cape Breton, University of King's College, University of Windsor and York University.

He has given hundreds of readings from his own work across Canada, the United States, England, Scotland, Denmark, Finland, Sweden, Germany, Ireland, Italy and Australia. His fiction, poetry and scholarly observations have been translated into Urdu, French, Dutch, Finnish, Swedish, Spanish, Norwegian, German, Russian, Gaelic, Italian and Hebrew, with three film adaptations.

In 1984-85 MacLeod was Canada's Scottish/Canadian Exchange Writer in Scotland and also represented Canada at the Commonwealth Institute, London, England (1985); the Commonwealth Writers Conference in Edinburgh (1986); the Nordic Association for Canadian Studies at Aarhus University, Denmark (1990) and the Edinburgh Book Festival (1993). In 1997 he was one of seven Canadian writers to represent Canada at various 'goodwill' functions in Cuba.

MacLeod's voice, as well as his work, is often heard on local, national and international radio, such as Morningside, Information Morning, Atlantic Airwaves, Maritime Magazine, Morningwatch, Crosstown, As It Happens, CBC Radio Arts and the BBC.

In 1999, Dr MacLeod published his first novel, No Great Mischief, to great critical acclaim. This book won the Dartmouth Book Award for Fiction, the Thomas Raddall Atlantic Fiction Award, The Trillium Book Award for Fiction, the CAA MOSAID Technologies Inc Award for Fiction and the International Dublin IMPAC Award, the world's richest monetary prize for a work of fiction. At the Canadian Booksellers Association Libris Awards, MacLeod won for Fiction Book of the Year and Author of the Year.

In November 2000, he became a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and was the winner of the Portia White Prize for Excellence in the Arts, awarded by the Province of Nova Scotia in 2001.

Alistair MacLeod and his wife, Anita, have six children. They live in Windsor.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Dr Alistair MacLeod:

William Drummond of Hawthornden. The History of Scotland, from the year 1423 until the year 1542. London, for Rich. Tomlins..., 1655.

The first edition of a key work by one of Scotland's early major writers (1585-1649), which is surprisingly uncommon, it was not published until after his death. Covering the reigns of the five Jameses, this volume also contains The Cypress-Grove, his philosophical prose meditation on death.

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Conferring of Degrees

The Presentation

The Acting Dean of the Faculty of Arts presents the candidates for degrees with these words:

"Eminent Chancellor and President, on behalf of the Faculties, I present to you these scholars and ask that they be pledged and admitted to the degrees to which they are entitled."

The Pledge

The President then addresses the candidates in these words:

"Do you promise faithfully to observe and loyally to maintain the statutes, customs, privileges, and liberties of this, your University? Do you solemnly promise to conduct yourself in all things loyally and faithfully to the honor of your University, the encouragement of learning, and the good of your country?"

Each candidate replies:

"These things I pledge myself to do."

The Admission

The Chancellor then addresses the candidates in these words:

"By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Legislature of this Province, and with the consent of this University, I admit you to the degrees to which you are entitled, and invest you with all the powers, rights, and privileges pertaining to such degrees. I charge you to use them for the glory of God and the honor of your country."

The graduates remain in their places.

Presentation of Graduates

The graduates are presented individually to the Chancellor in alphabetical order according to the seniority of their faculty and the establishment date of each program. At the discretion of the Faculty, the notation "With Distinction" is inscribed on the permanent record and graduation parchment of a candidate for any degree (except an honors or graduate degree), if the candidate has obtained a grade-point average of 7.5 or higher over the last two years of the program.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Mr Douglas Cardinal

The natural forces of nature and his Aboriginal roots have shaped the spirit and vision of Douglas J Cardinal, native Albertan, innovative architect and artist. Insisting that a structure be shaped by its natural surroundings and designed using science and technology with human beings in mind, Mr Cardinal creates unique buildings, with a natural rhythm and a spiritual tone that have gained him worldwide recognition and added lustre to the reputation of Canadian architecture.

Born in Calgary, Mr Cardinal studied architecture at the University of Texas, graduating with honors. Returning to Edmonton in 1964 to establish his practice, his first major innovative project was St Mary's Church in Red Deer, Alberta (1967). This set the standard of all his work. His personal principles have inspired, by virtue of his integrity, all those who come to know him and his work.

His design for the Grande Prairie Regional College — a recreational, cultural and educational centre — won an Award of Excellence from Canadian Architecture Magazine in 1972. Other early examples of his work are a multi million-dollar cultural centre, Ile-à-la-Crosse in Northern Saskatchewan, which was used as an opportunity to teach Aboriginal Canadians how to build homes; the Edmonton Space Sciences Centre (1983), now known as the Odysseum, in which he pioneered the development of computer technology and architectural design; and the creation of Marlyn Cardinal's home in Stony Plain near Edmonton (1984).

Canadian recognition came to Mr Cardinal in 1983 when he won the commission to design the Canadian Museum of Civilization in Hull, Quebec. In designing this building, now world recognized, he used computer assisted architectural drawings to connect a building with its environment — an innovation and technical advancement in the field of architecture. He has remained committed to his distinctive and unorthodox curvilinear approach, based in the landscape and tailored for the unique identity of each project, tying in with the environment and evoking a sense of spirituality.

While a great deal has been written about him, his own numerous writings and lectures best show his ever-evolving contribution to our architectural world. National and international architectural recognition includes Fellowship of the Royal Incorporation of Architects in Scotland, the Juan Torres Higuera Award of the Federation of Pan American Associations of Architects, and the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada Gold Medal for Architectural Achievement. He is an Officer of the Order of Canada and received the Governor General's Award for Visual and Media Arts in March 2001.

Quietly seeking affirmation of Aboriginal rights and better education for Canada's Aboriginal peoples, Mr Cardinal continues to look for ways to maintain peace and friendship among families, communities and nations. Transcending cultural and intellectual barriers, he has made our world a little bit better and a little bit more beautiful. A leader in architectural innovation, he is an ambassador for Alberta and for Canada and an outstanding role model for Aboriginal people.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Mr Douglas Cardinal:

Robert Morris. Rural Architecture: consisting of regular designs of plans and elevations for buildings in the country in which the purity and simplicity of the art of designing are variously exemplified. London, for the author, 1750.

Morris was a major architectural theoretician as well as practitioner. He was a key figure in the rise of the English Country House in the 18th century. In this volume, the scarce first edition, Morris sets the rule for a 'modern' approach to the design of the country house, on the principles of 'convenience, proportion, and regularity.' This copy is bound with two other important works of that day, The Builder's Magazine (1774), and Timothy Lightoler's Gentleman's and Farmer's Architect (1762). All three works have numerous engraved plates.

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

The Presentation

The Dean of the Faculty of Education presents the candidates for degrees with these words:

"Eminent Chancellor and President, on behalf of the Faculty, I present to you these scholars and ask that they be pledged and admitted to the degrees to which they are entitled."

The Pledge

The President then addresses the candidates in these words:

"Do you promise faithfully to observe and loyally to maintain the statutes, customs, privileges, and liberties of this, your University? Do you solemnly promise to conduct yourself in all things loyally and faithfully to the honour of your University, the encouragement of learning, and the good of your country?"

Each candidate replies:

"These things I pledge myself to do."

The Admission

The Chancellor then addresses the candidates in these words:

"By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Legislature of this Province, and with the consent of this University, I admit you to the degrees to which you are entitled, and invest you with all the powers, rights, and privileges pertaining to such degrees. I charge you to use them for the glory of God and the honour of your country."

Honorary Degree Recipient

Miss Doris McCarthy

Doris McCarthy is known across Canada for her inspiring landscapes that convey the essence of our country. She has had a profound influence on seven decades of younger painters. Today, at the age of 91, she continues to give guidance and encouragement to the next generation of painters.

Born in Calgary, raised in Ontario, Miss McCarthy established herself, while still a young woman, as an important artistic contemporary of the Group of Seven. In the 1930s, she taught art classes for Arthur Lismer, who was also her teacher and friend. Although strongly influenced by the Group of Seven, she worked passionately over the years to find her own voice and develop a personal style.

After graduating from the Ontario College of Art, Miss McCarthy taught art for 40 years at Central Technical School in Toronto. Between academic terms she travelled across Canada and around the world painting landscapes. She could have retired in 1975, with an illustrious career in teaching and painting behind her. Instead, she continued to work and broaden her painting horizons. She also went back to university and obtained an honors degree in literature, and became a major philanthropist in the cultural arena.

Curators of important Canadian art galleries who have exhibited Miss McCarthy's work over the years, comment on the unsurpassed quality of her paintings and their singular focus that unites perception, emotion and place. The inspiration and passion that exude from her work are conveyed by the artist herself to audiences, collectors and colleagues.

During her seventy-some years as a painter, Miss McCarthy has produced an exceptional body of work and has an impressive record of exhibitions. As the first woman president of the Ontario Society of Artists, she has taught some of Canada's most distinguished artists, and continues to be a mentor for many others. She has also worked tirelessly with artists' societies such as the Canadian Society of Painters in Watercolour. Her two published volumes of autobiography, A Fool in Paradise (1990) and The Good Wine (1991), give an invaluable insight into the struggles faced by women artists, recounted in the context of her own life. Her paintings are in private and public collections across the country. The results of her life's work as a painter were presented in 1999 at a retrospective exhibition at the McMichael Museum in Kleinburg, Ontario. Today, in her ninth decade, she continues to paint and has just recently returned from painting in Costa Rica.

Miss McCarthy is an inspiring artist, teacher and writer with a pioneering spirit and love of the land. For over 90 years she has dedicated her life to painting, pushing her understanding of her media and travelling to seek out new experiences of the landscape — she was one of the first contemporary Canadian women artists to paint in the Arctic. With her formidable abilities as a painter, mentor and advocate for the arts, she is truly an ambassador for Canadian culture.

De Scalden. Yearbooks I-XV. Antwerp, 1897-1914.

A complete run of the publications which showcased the Flemish art group De Scalden, with its spirit of experimentation and Art Nouveau influences. The group illustrated children's books, calendars, songbooks, and was involved with architecture, design and graphic work. This is a beautiful and rare set; only one other complete set is known in North America.

Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Madam Jiang Zehui

Jiang Zehui is a distinguished and widely respected wood scientist, noted for her outstanding leadership in guiding the Peoples Republic of China (PRC) into developing a national Forestry Action Plan to maintain the balance between the forest ecological system and the forest industry system.

As President of the Chinese Academy of Forestry (CAF), PRC's key institution for education in forest science and management, Madam Jiang is responsible for implementing a mandate to manage more than 40 percent of PRC's forests. Recognizing the need for profound forestry reform that incorporates large-scale forest cultivation and protection as well as developing forest productivity, Madam Jiang has fostered considerable change within CAF. She has encouraged an 'open door' policy to break down institutional boundaries both in and outside PRC and to promote interdisciplinary research and strengthen collaborative relationships.

Madam Jiang has effectively instilled within the Chinese forestry sector the understanding that forests are not simply sources of timber but have a broad social value, offering protection, water and other valuable, sometimes intangible, products. Under her leadership, CAF research strongly emphasizes the development of solutions, rather than simply identifying problems. Some of her notable visions in forest policy in PRC include establishing six new ecological forest programs, promoting forest development through new management systems, and establishing a law for forestry protection and development policy.

Madam Jiang has been the catalyst for a number of highly productive exchanges between Canada and PRC. A collaborative partnership between CAF and the University of Alberta on forestry research and management was formally established in 2000 by Madam Jiang and our President Roderick Fraser. The first joint undertaking, the Yangtze River Afforestation Project in Yunnan Province, will see a forest of more than 600 hectares of mulberry trees planted along the upper Yangtze. The trees will not only minimize soil erosion but produce economic benefits: mulberry leaves feed silkworms, who spin silk, which local farmers will sell, adding appreciably to their current meagre living. This new model of international collaboration has already attracted national and international attention.

A number of Madam Jiang's students have spent work terms with Canada's national forest products research institute and contributed significantly to issues around wood products research. A scientist from PRC is returning to her country with expertise in timber engineering that will assist in expanding the use of Canadian wood products in PRC. Under Madam Jiang's direction, the CAF is supporting Canadian participation in the revision of Chinese national building codes and standards, providing an opportunity to accommodate Canadian wood products and systems in the codes.

The winner of many scientific achievement awards, Madam Jiang is an exemplary scholar, academic administrator and civil servant and an international leader in support of forestry science research. She has dedicated herself selflessly to the betterment of the environment and the enhancement of lives of millions who struggle to subsist in rural areas.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Madam Jiang Zehui:

Friedrich August Ludwig von Burgsdorf. Anleitung zur sichern Erziehung und zweckmassigen Anpflanzung, der einheimischen und fremden Holzarten... Second edition, revised and enlarged. Berlin, Verfassers, 1791.

The author was manager of the forests of the Kurmark Brandenburg, and wrote several highly esteemed works on arboriculture and forest management. This volume, one of his most important, is devoted to the techniques of cultivation in Germany of indigenous and foreign trees. This copy is from the library of His Serene Highness the Prince Furstenberg of Donaueschingen.

Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

History of Convocation

In the eleventh century, a new vitality quickened all aspects of the civilization of Western Europe. The creative forces thus unleashed soon found expression in new institutions, and of these the university bids fair to be the most enduring. The modern university is the lineal descendant of the university of the Middle Ages. Its purposes and organization, even much of its ceremonial, are medieval in origin.

The medieval university was originally called a studium generale, that is, a place of learning to which teachers and students from anywhere resorted. The first studia were at Salerno, Bologna, and Paris. These came into existence spontaneously and developed through the twelfth century as the needs of the time and their inner necessities dictated. In the thirteenth century these spontaneous associations crystallized into guilds or corporations endowed by Church and State with specific privileges which guaranteed the internal autonomy necessary for the vocation of study. To these corporations was increasingly applied the word universitas denoting the entire group of those responsible for the transmission of higher learning and the pursuit of knowledge.

By the beginning of the 14th century, two forms of university organization had appeared. At Bologna, primarily a higher school of canon and civil law to which came men experienced in ecclesiastical and secular administration, the control of the studium generale passed to the students; hence Bologna was a universitas scholarum. On the other hand in Paris and Oxford, whose dominant faculty was the Faculty of Arts, the studium emerged under the direction of a guild of teachers, a universitas magistrorum. Through its own officials, notably the chancellor (once symbol of external control and by now of internal autonomy), the guild of teachers developed its courses of instruction, administered its own affairs and admitted to its company only those who had met its intellectual standards. The University of Alberta stands in the tradition of Paris and Oxford.

Originally the goal of the medieval student was certification by the guild of teachers that he also was qualified to teach (the licentia docendi). With the passage of time the student's progress through the curriculum was marked by ceremonies which signified his successful attainment of a certain level (gradus or in modern language, degree) of competence. The Bachelor had completed his apprenticeship in the Faculty of Arts. The Master was now qualified to teach in that Faculty and was thus incorporated into the universitas magistrorum. The Doctor was one who, having obtained the mastership, had successfully completed the curriculum of one of the "higher" faculties (in the Middle Ages, law, medicine, and theology) and was now qualified to teach in those faculties. Inevitably the degrees of the universitas did more than admit their holders to the teaching profession. They served the wider social purpose of demonstrating their holders' fitness to serve the entire medieval community.

Today's ceremony stems from the medieval tradition. The procession of the guild of teachers, whose solemn assembly, or convocation, is the modern equivalent of the medieval magna congregatio of all faculties, is led by the Chancellor and the Chief Marshal carrying the mace, the symbol of the University's corporate authority. The academic gowns, hoods, and caps, once the sober, disciplined dress of secular clergy and teachers, declare in their various designs and colours the academic qualifications of the Faculty. The citations and presentations by the Faculty to the Chancellor attest to him and to society the degree of proficiency attained by the students of the University. There follows a visible and public act whereby the universitas magistrorum, acting through its Chancellor, confers upon the students the appropriate degree. It is the act, not a certificate, which constitutes the validity of the degree bestowed. More, the formula, "I admit you" and the placing of the students' hands within the hands of the Chancellor and his associates, bind the students in the appropriate degree to the universitas magistrorum. The students thereafter bear for all time the mark of their association with this University. They have received what the University has been and presently is. Because they bear in themselves the promise of the future, they are what the University hopes to be. Despite its solemnity, convocation is a joyous occasion.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the fourteenth century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade "excess apparel" and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a controversial question as to whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or in civilian dress. Gowns may have been counted necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars. Hoods seem to have served to cover the tonsured head until superseded for that purpose by the skull cap. This was itself displaced by a headdress more or less like one or another of those now recognized as "academic." (The mortar board—the hard, square cap commonly used as academic headdress today—evolved from the softer, more flexible "square cap" introduced in England about 1490. It is named for the square board on a handle used by stone masons for holding the mixed mortar to be applied to walls.) Both Cambridge and Oxford have made academic dress a matter of university control to the extent of even its minor details and have repeatedly issued revised regulations. In Laudian days in Oxford it was prescribed that any tailor who departed from authorized design "even by a nail's breadth" in the making of any article of collegiate costume was to be punished by the vice-chancellor of the university.

Academic dress at the University of Alberta generally follows the prescription of Cambridge University in the design of the gown, and that of Oxford University in the design of the hood. See page 60 for a detailed description of the academic dress at this institution.

In addition to the apparel worn by holders of degrees conferred by the University of Alberta, a collection of apparel specific to particular offices has also been developed. The President of the University wears a green gown faced with gold braid trim and lining and a green cap with a gold tassel. The Chancellor and Chancellors Emeriti wear gowns of teal blue with silver trim and black caps with silver tassels. The gowns of the senior officials bear an embroidered crest of the University. University Governors and Senators wear stoles bearing the crest of the University over their gowns: gold for Governors and green for Senators. The University Registrar wears a green gown with gold trim on the sleeves.

Graduates and staff of the University of Alberta who wish to purchase their own academic apparel are invited to contact the Convocation Officer in the Office of the Registrar and Student Awards.

The University Coat of Arms

On November 15, 1909, a motion by the faculty recommended to the Senate the adoption by the University of the provincial coat of arms, with the addition of an open book above the shield and the motto Lux et Lex; the words "University of Alberta" were to be attached as might seem fit. The present motto was substituted in January 1911 for the one originally proposed. In 1950 the representation of the coat of arms was altered to conform better to the principles of heraldic design but these arms were never actually registered.

In 1994 a new coat of arms incorporating a number of traditional symbols associated with the University or the Province, or with learning, was officially granted by the Canadian Heraldic Authority. In non-technical language, it consists of the following elements:

Shield: a representation of the topography of Alberta (wheat fields, hills, rivers, and the Rocky Mountains) derived from the provincial coat of arms, and a book symbolizing learning.

Crest: a Great Horned Owl, the provincial bird and a traditional symbol of wisdom.

Supporters: a pronghorn, taken from the provincial coat of arms, and a golden bear, long the University mascot, standing on a mound of wild roses, the floral emblem of Alberta.

Motto: Quaecumque vera ("Whatsoever things are true," Philipians 4:8)

The arms are copyrighted and may not be used without permission of the Board of Governors. The name of the University is similarly protected.

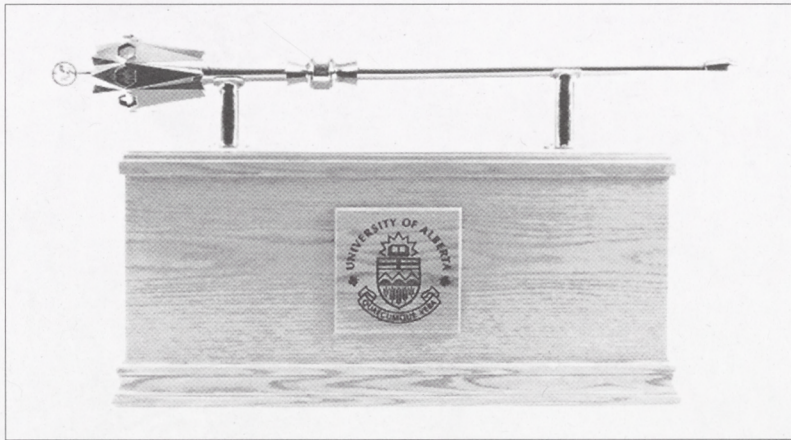

University Mace and Ceremonial Chairs

The University of Alberta Mace was designed and crafted specifically for the University as a gift from Dr Francis Phillip Galbraith, Chancellor of the University of Alberta from 1964 to 1970. Michael Galbraith presented the Mace on behalf of his father on May 26, 1970.

Among its elements are the Star of Saint Thomas Aquinas, the Patron Saint of Scholars; the Wild Rose of Alberta; the Maple Leaf; and the separate charges which make up the University's Emblem. The University motto "Quaecumque Vera" ("Whatsoever Things Are True" Phil 4:8) encircles the staff. The Mace is made of sterling silver which was rhodium plated after the insertion of the various enamelled shields which make up its elements. A special electroplate process was used to apply 24 karat gold to other parts of the Mace.

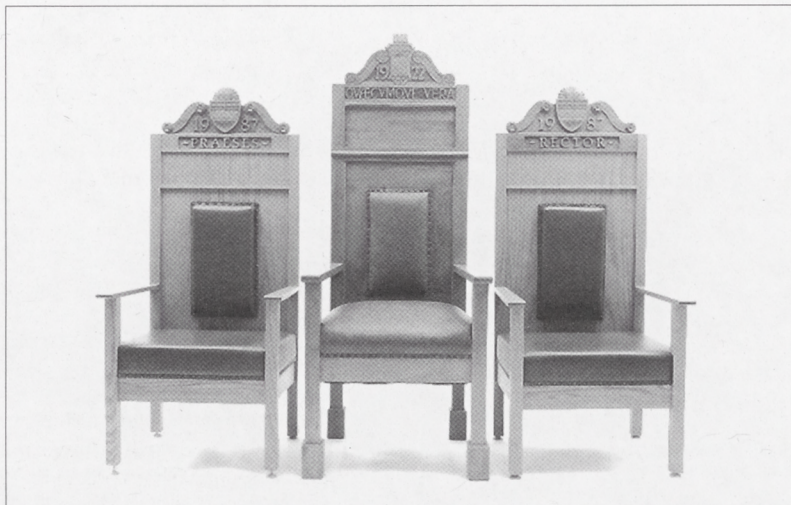

It was intended that the Mace should be modern in appearance but with medieval origins. The preponderance of visual weight at the top of the staff and the rather complex section through the metalwork at this point are reminiscent of the use of the mace as a weapon, defensive or aggressive.

The Mace is carried before the Chancellor, or Vice-Chancellor, in procession and rests on its stand in full view of the assembly during Convocation. Centuries ago the Mace was a symbol of authority over life and death. Today it represents power — but the power of knowledge and the importance of the University in the community.

The Chancellor's Chair was presented to the University of Alberta as a gift from the 1922 graduating class. It is made of solid oak with a padded leather back and seat. Above the padded-leather back is carved the University motto "Quaecumque Vera" together with the class year, 1922, and the University emblem.

In 1987, the family and friends of Dr Charles Malcolm Macleod, Chair of the Board of Governors from 1950 to 1966, presented a memorial gift to the University of an oak stand for the University of Alberta Mace and two additional chairs for use by the President and the Chair of the Board of Governors at Convocation.

Academic Dress

All undergraduate and master's degree gowns are the customary Cambridge shape, i.e., a gown of black material falling below the knee with full sleeves cut to the elbow and terminating in a point. Hoods are made in the Oxford pattern of spruce green material. The Bachelor's hood has a border three inches wide of the color distinctive of the Faculty as noted below. The Masters' hood has a full lining of the color distinctive of the Faculty also noted below. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Doctorate Degrees

Doctors' gowns (PhD, DMus, and EdD) conform to the Intercollegiate Code in design. They are made of black material and the velvet trim on the sleeves is Philosophy Blue for the PhD and DMus, and Education Light Blue for the EdD. Doctors' hoods conform to the Intercollegiate Code in shape, size, and color. They are made of black material to match the gown, and have a full lining of gold satin with a six-inch green satin chevron. The velvet trim distinguishes the two degrees and matches the velvet trim on the gown's sleeves. There is a narrow green piping where the gold lining joins the black material. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Honorary Doctorates

Honorary Doctors of Laws (LLD), Letters (DLitt), and Science (DSc) wear a scarlet robe faced with white silk. Hoods are made in the Cambridge form of scarlet silk with a full lining of white silk. Caps are black velvet with a gold tassel.

If you can, please share this program with a companion. Then, if you do not take it home, please leave it (in good repair) on the table outside the doors as you exit the auditorium. This will help us ensure that someone else can use it on another day of Convocation, and subsequently conserve paper. Thank you for your assistance.
